Divorce Suit at Painesville.

PAINESVILLE, O., Nov. 25 .- Attempting to carry out a threat of three weeks ago, Peter McCrory, 60, who, according to police, said he would wipe out the entire family, because his wife, Mrs. Marie Cook McCrory, had filed suit for divorce and obtained a court injunction barring him from the home here, today shot and killed his two step-sons, Alfred and Alex Cook McCrory, wounded his wife, and youngest son, Arthur, 19, and then shot and killed himself when neighbors rushed onto the front porch of the McCory home.

neighbors rushed onto the front porch of the McCory home.

Mrs. McCrory and her three some were seated around the breakfast table this morning when the elder McCrory arrived. Entering the dining room, police say McCrory opened fire, shooting Alfred. 29, through the breast as he sat at the table. Alex was shot as he ran from the house.

shot as he ran from the house. Arthur, intervening as his father attempted to shoot Mrs. McCrory, suffered a wound in the right forearm, according to police. Mrs. McCrory succeeded in reaching the street when a builet grazed her nose and shattered the right lens of her glasses.

THEY will enter the death chamber through a little, narrow door and see the electric cchair on the right near he wall with its side turned toward them, reporters with pencil and paper looking at them.

A strange meeting, at that little door, after their many other meetings. Which will go through the door first, what will they think? Or will fear mercifully stop thought, as the electric current stopts it?

MODERN miracles by science are less dramatic than old miracles by religious leaders. Millions believe that when Mohammed, hard pressed in battle, threw a handful of dust into the air the particles of dust were changed into angels on horseback that fought and won for him.

ALL Eastern religions include among their miracles curing of individual lepers. But leprosy continued to conquer and claim fresh victims.

SCIENCE announces now that leprosy will cease to exist in the next generation, thanks to the use of chaulmoogra oil. That unromantic scientific miracle works to protect all lepers everywhere and to END lepare perhaps among the finest examples of glass workers skill. Here the art of engraving, mitering, beveling and polishing has reached a degree of beauty unsurpassed in any class of modern mir rors. Only crystal-clear plate glass is used, and the silvering is done with the utmost precision. The mirrors are then mounted flush on wooden back and held in place with glass rosettes.

There is no more effective accessory to home decoration than a mirror of this type happily placed. They lend dignity and beauty to the hall console, reflect the flawless beauty of silverware and crystal on the dining room buffet and strikes a decorative note in the dull corner of the living room.

We have a new collection of distinctive models of Venetian designs. Priced at $7.50 and $8.50.

Christmas Seal Campaign

East Liverpool's annual campaign to raise funds for the war against tuberculosis, which claimed 48 victims in Columbiana county in 1926, will be launched on Monday, when Christmas seals -messages of health will be placed on sale by the health com mittee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Louis Steinfeld, chairlady of the committee, assisted by a corps of club members and high school girls, who will be in charge of booths in stores, theatres and the post office, expects to attain the city's quota-$2.240, or 10 seals per capita-within 20 days, or not later than Christmas day.

As the campaign committee points out, every seal placed on mail during the holiday season is a reminder that East Liverpool is wishing better health for some one, for funds provided through the sale of the double-cross adhesives bearing a drawing of Santa Claus and his reindeers, are used in the fight against the dread malady

The war on the white plague is proving successful, according to health bureau statistics. In Columbiana county, thanks to funds raised for milk for undernourished children and tubercular patients appointment of a public health nurse and financial aid given vic tims of the disease, the death rate decreased from 63 in 1925 to 48 in 1926. But the campaign must go on, for 5,083 persons were claimed by tuberculois in Ohio last year. And according to conservative estimates there are nine active cases for each death. Application of this ratio to Columbiana county figures shows that there are now in the county probably 432 active cases. Encouragement, however, is found in the fact that the death rate in Ohio while strolling: The gray-haired has never advertised. He depends business, for he would have known and the nation has been reduced one-half since the campaign of clerks at Tiffany's. If it came to a question of beauty-which is more important than either flying or milking-probably the flier would win, though from her pictures this stenographic milkmaid is nothing to be sneezed at.

Living Art

Being nothing if not up to date, Chicago is going back to the Middle Ages for the headliner attraction of its Arts ball. There is to be a Lady Godiva, garbed according to the old legend, to open and close the festival.

This is supposed to be a pageant showing life in the year 2,000," complains a feminine objector on the program committee. "There will not be any ladies with long hair in the year 2,000, and ing exclusively in big clothes for big there certainly will not be any horses."

It isn't wise to be too positive on either of those points, Be sides, it may be argued, as it often is, that Art is timeless.

These are matters too high for most of us. It does seem, though, as if any excuse nowadays can be made a good excuse for exhibiting this kind of living art in public.

Shaw On Movies

George Bernard Shaw, who is interested in movie technique but annoyed by movie mush, makes this criticism after viewing a new show:

"Exhibitors are incurably romantic persons. They believe that the minds of the public are occupied either by ideas on wild adventure or by the sex appeal for which they look in nine-tenths of the films.

'You may take the trouble to make the most artistic films, but the exhibitors ask, 'Where is the sex appeal?'

"The whole experience of movies shows that sex is not the most important factor. Who are the two people who have proved most attractive in the history of the cinema? They are Charlie Chaplin and Mary Pickford. There is no sex appeal at all in their films," he declares, although "at the end of a Mary Pickford film she is made to embrace someone or other in order to please the exhibitors who must have sex appeal."

He might have included Douglas Fairbanks in that classifica-

Mr. Shaw, however, seems to have a misconception as to the purpose of most of our film dramas, which is not art but the entertainment of 14-year-olds.

Sought to Serve Sentence in Beaver Jail.

Mary D. Camwell, former Midland bank clerk, who was sentenced to th Allegheny county workhouse for al leged embezzlement of school funds, today in the superior court at Phila-delphia, had lost her appeal in which she contended that she was being illegally held to serve her sentence in Allegheny instead of Beaver county

The woman was first sentenced to a jail term in the Eastern penitentiary. She appealed the first time to the suerior court and the latter tribunal d the statutes authorized only her mple imprisonment.

Makes Second Appeal.

She was then sentenced to the Allegheny county workhouse and again appealed to the superior court.

On the second appeal, President Judge Porter decides that as county commissioners of counties in the western district of the state are authorized under the act of 1871, to contract with the managers of the Alle gheny county workhouse to keep pris oners from other counties in the dis trict for not less than 60 days, that the Camwell woman had been properly sentenced to the workhouse

Her appeal was dismissed and the judgment of quarter sessions court of Beaver county affirmed.

OLUMBUS, O., Nov. 25.—The business of picking the mythical "all' teams for 1927 is now in order —and to say that it is a highly uncertain business is to put it mildly.

A dozen representative coaches were asked by the International News Service to select all Ohio conference teams for this season, and the above elevens are based on their selections.

SPOTLESS CARD

For instance, on the above honor team, Miami has four players, while Wittenkingum, Sayger of Heidelberg, Pittser of Miami, Wilhelm of Denison and berg has only two. Yet Wittenberg beat Miami, 23 to 0.

But if the coaches' ideas count for anything, and they probably do, Miami has the outstanding fullback, the outstanding end, the outstanding guard, and one of the two outstanding tack-les in the conference this season.

Stryker, Miami fullback, received six more votes and a seventh coach picked him for his second team. Richardson, at end, was given the same con sideration, Oswald, at guard, received four votes, and McCall, at tackle, tied with Tilton, of Wesleyan, each receiving five. All of the other three had votes than any other candidate for the same position.
Two teams which are ostensibly members of the conference manifestly are not and cannot be given fair consideration in picking an all-conference eleven for this season. These two are Dayton and St. Xavier. St. Xavier played only one conference game and other Ohio coaches naturally are more or less uninformed about the strength of the Musketeers. Allgeirgs, Xavier halfback, is probably as good as any thing in the state, yet he is not elected to either team because the various Buckeye mentors have not seen him

Dayton demonstrated yesterday that it is about as formidable as anything in the state. Yet the Flyers have no representative on either of the teams here recorded. They played three conference games, lost by only one point to the powerful Miami organization, and then knocked Wittenberg's hopes for an andicated the powerful miami organization. undisputed ch

These two teams, specifically, are discriminated against because of their limited schedules in the conference. Other and weaker teams, Kenyon and Marietta, for example, may also be discriminated against. A good player on a weak aggregation may never be recognized. Every fan has his own ideas as fo what players should be on any "all" team—and they are all different. These selections carry as much authority as any other and if you don't like them, that's quite all right.

But Only 75,000 Will Succeed; Teams Taper Off in Drills.

IN DESPAIR OVER PIMPLY, RED SKIN

ITCHED AND BURNED-UGLY TO LOOK AT

Healed at last, quickly and easily

Charlotte, Mich., Oct. 21:—"I have been a sufferer from a most unsightly skin disorder, my face being full of pimples and blackheads and my complexion was very muddy. It was very ugly to look at as it was red and firey and it annoyed me by itching and burning. I tried many treatments, but got no relief. When I was a small baby I had eczema on my body and my mother used Resinol Ointment on it and she recommended it to me at this time. In desperation I decided to send for a sample of Resinol. After using the sample I bought more Resinol as I was convinced it was a splendid remedy. After I had applied it four times, the pimples began to heal and at the end of two weeks they had entirely disappeared. Now, I have such confidence in Resinol Ointment I would not be without it." WHY YOUR STOMACH GRUMBLES

Your stomach "grumbles" because tries to tell you it is out of order Heed its warning, for although the trouble may not yet be serious, it is often the forerunner of severe gastri tis and stomach ulcers.

Nine times out of ten indigestion and allied stomach disorders are due to excess stomach acid, which im pedes normal digestion and forms sour gases that cause intense pain To restore good digestion you must eliminate this cause. A tablet of "Pape's Diapepsin" after cating or when pain is felt will instantly neutralize the acidity and banish all digestive trouble and pain.

Get a 60-cent package of "Pape"

Diapepsin" today, for it not only brings instant relief, but by soothing. healing and strengthening your weak and dlisordered stomach "Papes Dia pepsin" keeps your digestive system healthy and helps to prevent further popularity and box office success of the Beery-Hatton combination.

cellent vehicle in which to make their joint debut. Titled "Tell It To Sweeney," it is a story of railroad life and is filled to the brim with pep, action and real comedy. There are thrills, too, and there is romance. The picture has everything audiences want.

The story has a well-defined plot, centered about two principal characters, Luke Beamish, haughty engineer of another day, and Cannonball

Casey, a modern throttle-pusher, whose ego and Herculean strength

etir the wrath of the veteran. Conklin plays Luke, and the hefty Bancroft is cast as Cannonball, a character that brings to mind the original "Casey" ters suit. And when the youthful suitor fails to appear to wrestle the mighty Cannonball it is up to Luke to throw him. You'll have to see the rest to appreciate its qualities and were turned into the three-tiered cell blocks. There were six of these on each side of the main corridor, and between each two triple-decked lines of cells was a concrete hallway. Here the men lounged around on the floor, awaiting the summons to lunch. There were no chair and they were not permitted to enter their cells They themselves full length on the concrete and a few conversed in whispers, but for the most part they did not talk. It was as though they had forgotten how-or that there was notling they cared to discuss.

Bob Terry walked down the main corridor and stopped at the barred door of his cell block. The stevedore entered the block with him and then unlocked the door of Terrys cell. Instantly the convicts near by grew rigid with interest. They knew what it meant: this giving a prisoner access to his cell before 4 o'clock in the afternoon. They had seen it be fore, and it always immediately preceded the departure of one of their number for the outer world.

They stared curiously at Bob. Som were envious, others—not even know-ing Terry—were merely glad for him. But most of them did not care. They had learned that nothing which concerned the outer world was for them, and it was beyond their comprehen-sion that there were people who could come and go as they pleased.

But there was one convict whose in-terest in Bob Terry's action was keen and personal. This man raised his herculean frame from the floor where it had been stretched, and shuffled toward the young man and his escort. Todd Shannon was a tremendous Todd Shannon was a tremendous man, and a picteresque one. The sun, filtering in through the sinister bars of the cell block, illumined a fine, deeply graven face set with eyes in which there was little of evil and much of humor. But most particularly it lighted his shock of flaming red hair—hair which fell about his ears and created a dayl may ease improve. and created a devil-may-care impression. It was only when one saw Todd Shannon in his moments of brooding that it was possible to understand why he was here.

Now there was nothing but radiant good cheer in the mans face, and Bob Terry, looking up to meet the jovial eyes of the huge convict, started forward with hands outstretched. Even now, however, the bonds of three interminable years were not to be cast aside, and he spoke in a whisper.

"It's come, Todd."

"Youre goin' out?" The big man's

"Youre goin' out." The big man's bone-crushing grip tightened on Terry's arms. "Are you, honest, kid?" "Yes. And I wish—" "Well, dog-gone your hide! Kid I'm happy about that. Pardon?" Bob shook his head and a smile played hittenly about his eddien young line. ed bitterly about his oldish-young lips "No. Freedom, They've discovered l wasn't guilty."

Shannon whistled softly. "Now didn't I always tell you things would work out thataway? Didn't I, huh? Boy! I'm glad for you. 'Twon't be so lon before I'm out, too. And then-" He looked toward the open cell door and then turned pleadingly to the turn-Listen, Cap'n-please, sir, He's my buddy. Can't I go into the cell with him an' say good-bye?" The guard, who was distinctly human at times, nodded cheerful assend and the friends—one brawny and huge and cheerful, the other ten years younger and smaller and hope-lessly bitter-entered the cell. The other prisoners, trooping silently by toward the mess hall, glanced curf-ously inside the cell.

Bob Terry seated himself on the iron cot. He looked at his surroundings through new eyes. For three years he had occupied a room like this; for the past 14 months this very cubicle had been his home. And, queerly enough, it had not seemed so bad-until now when freedom was only a few minutes distant. Five beds in a row, each with a wooden chest against the foot; a wash basin, a toilet, two barred windows, a steam radiator—all rather better and cleaner and more comfortable than most prisons; but even more unbearable, for it was remindful of the outside world. It was the vista from the cell that was beyond reason; a staring through bars to bars, and then to still other bars beyond—and then the grim granite wall with its sentinel tower in which there were armed guards and machine guns.

Todd Shannon watched his young friend silently. There was genuine af-fection in his manner and concern was marked in fine lines about the corners of his mouth. They were different as night and day, yet in three years a bond of friendship had been cemented between them. They had shared each other's whispered confidences, hopes and bitterness. But it was Todd who had been the more understanding because he was a phi losopher and Bob Terry was too young and too bitter to be that.

It was Shannon who spoke first.

"I'm sure glad, Bob; awful glad."

"I know you are, Todd. It seems kind of queer—"

"Sure. I remember when they let me out three months ahead when I done my first stretch; seemed like there was a trick in it somewhere and I'd be hauled back—but there aint no catch in this thing of yours, kld."

"Tain't even like a pardon."

"No." The boy laughed harshly. "When I tell people that I've been in the pen for three years, I'll also explain that I was innocent. Oh! what a damned rotten mess it is."

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated.

Flush your kidneys by drinking quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted au-thority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to exper h trees the body. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kid-ney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate slugg'sh kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

rerisistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known days creekts is reasonable.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing ele-ments which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Cromulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
